PROBABLY when Japan sent a few soldiers across the river Tumen to take possession of an unconsidered trifle in the shape of the Hien-tso, or "unoccupied march," which by old consent had, lain between China and Korea, she little foresaw that she was raising the one point which was likely to bring her in contact with one of the most complicated and dangerous principles o international law. The incident has particular interest at the present day, because an almost identical claim some twenty-two centuries ago get in motion a train of circumstances, which for centuries had important effects on the history of the of the world. About the year 209 B.C. there arose amongst the early Turks one of those commanding figures who have left when one of the leading restaurants suspended a permanent mark on history; his name was its order against the practice. according to Chinese pronunciation Maotun, probably it was pronounced Moghule Moghul's father after his birth had to be a corpse in a ricehe. The constable remarried, and his eldest son by the new connection was his favourite, and he desired he should succeed to the exclusion of mission to his savage neighbours, but at the same time suggested that his death would not be unacceptable. Moghur had warning the plot, and escaped just in time. Returning home he ingratiated himself with his father's troops by his soldierly ways, and when the time was ripe had his father throne. Some distance to the east of him was situated the kingdom of the Tunghu, comprising Eastern Manchuria and Northern alternative being six weeks' imprisonment.

Korea. Considering that the dispute about the succession would have weakened the Purkish kingdom, the King of the Tunghusent messengers to Moghul asking for his favourite horse whose speed and endurance had saved his life in his escape from his father's plot. Moghul called a council of his ministers who advised him, seeing the horse was one of his most valued po-sessions, not to yield, and dare the consequences. "What," said Moghul, "shall I for the sake of a horse offend a friendly people?" accordingly sent the charger. The Tunghu accepted the surrender as a sign of fear, and sent again demanding his favourite concubine. Moghul assembled his councillors and put the case before them. The council indignantly replied : "These Tunghu go beyond all reason, we would prefer fighting." Maotun again replied: "What! shall I for the sake of one woman do an unneigh. bourly deed?" He sent his best beloved concubine to cghul. The Tunghu monarch, elated with his success, imagined he could carry on the game to the end: and realised a gross profit of $1,092. The net Between the two people there lay an expanse of uninhabited land some thousand li in extent, which each in turn temporarily utili e | as grazing ground. For the third time the Tunghu sent his messenger to Moghul: - There is beyond for which your Hiung Nu have no occasion. We would wish to have it." Moghul once more consulted the Council who said, "This is more waste land; it seems a matter of little moment whether we retain or abandon it." But Moghul looked upon the matter in quite a different light: -" Land," he said, " is the foundation of empire: how can it be alienated?" Moghul's first action was to cut off the heads of his too accommodating ministers; his next step was to mount his horse, proclaim a penalty of death on all laggards, and without giving the Tunghua moment's time for preparation, ride with his troops to the East. The Tunghu were utterly defeated, their king killed, and the whole people reduced-to-slavery.

Such was the origin of the first Turkish empire, which before many years had Among subjects referred to in the annual elapsed had the whole of Eastern Asia at its feet, and by driving the Yuehti across the Pamirs gave rise to a series of events which ended in the ruin of the Roman Empire. Young China dreams, fondly of some such glorification. We have carefully avoided forming a premature julgment on the point at issue, not knowing how much of reason the Koreans had on their side. But now China has made out a prima facie case, in hand the marine insurance duty question heald be addressed to THE EDITOR. which it would require very strong evidence and also important matters arising out of the Correspondents must forward their names and ad- which it would require very strong evidence and also important matters arising out of the on the part of Japan to rebut. We can therefore with perfect fairness, and as we. believe in Japan's best interest, point out to her the advisability of remitting the points at issue to arbitration. Japan would suffer no loss of prestige by such a course, while on the other hand the fact of her having a righteous cause would, as in the former case, add immensely to her power and prestige. At all events the situation in East Asia is not in such a sittle! condition, that perseverance in a doubtful cause may not be followed by an universal crash into which the nations, willing or unwilling, will be drawn.

The advantages of newspaper over circular advertising is strikingly shown by the Mail Order Journal, which cites the case of a Chicago jewellery concern that sent out 20,000 circulars, at a cost [including addresses, envelopes, postage, &c.) of $396 and received twenty-nine replies, which led to sales representing a gross profit of 878. The firm them spent $540 in newspaper advertising, as a result of which it received over 1,100 inquiries, made 364 sales, profit was $752, or 221 per cent. on the cost of the advertising.

The Kaiser travelled from Berlin to Kiel on January 21 to pay a surprise visit to his third son, Prince Adalbert, who is a naval officer stationed there. Prince Adaltert was giving a masked fancy dress ball at his Kiel residence when, a few minutes after it had begun, the Kaiser suddenly appeared at the house. The Prince was hastily summoned from the ballroom, and was commanded not to inform the guests of the Kaiser's arrival. The Kaiser donned the sectume of his famous succestor. Frederick William, the Great Elector of Brandenburg, of the seventeenth century, and then a black domino and mask. Thus disguised, the Emperor entered the ballro m. and, mingling Japanese Ambassador to Washington, with the guests, enjoyed the fan heartily without being recognised by those present. After. participating in the general galety for a couple of hours, the Emperor left the ballroom, deffed the mask and domino, and respected among -his setonished guests in the gorgeous costume by his sudden appearance may be well imagined.

At the annual general meeting of the Institute of London Underwriters, Mr. R. B. Lemon was re-elected chairman, and Mr. S. Kennard Davis deputy-chairman for 1903 report is that of the Marine Insurance Stamp Duty, which Mr. Asquith has undertaken to deal with this year. This subject is, perhaps, the most important and pressing of those which engage the attention of marine insurance markets in the United Kingdom. The report of the Liverpool Underwriters' Association for 1907 deals in the usual exhaustive way with the topics of interest during the year. This the Institute of London Underwriters, has use (now an Act), and irregulari y in cotton bills of lading. Reference is also made to the "McNeill Prize"-the late Mr. Arthur McNeill, who. died in September, bequeathed £1,000 to the association to provide out of the income thereon a prise to be competed for annually by junior clerks in marine insurance offices in Liverpool. with the view of encouraging them to acquire proficiency in the knowledge of their business.

The report for the first half-yearly general meeting (accounts presented being from May 21st to ecember 31st) of the Koba Marine, Transport and Fire Insurance Company is now to hand. The net profit for the period has amounted to Y58,699.32. Of this sum, Y3,000 has been placed to the reserve, Y5,0 0 paid as bonuses to officials, and Y38,000 will be distributed as a dividend at the rate of 5 per cent. per annum, The amount of Y9,924.28 is set saide in redemption of the promoting expenses. THE CHINESE HOTEL GAMBLING CHARGE.

Before Mr. F. A. Hazeland at the Magistracy yesterday afternoon Inspector Collett prosecuted Wu. Sin-kiu, license of the Lok To To restaurant, for permitting a game of chance to be played on his licensed premises. Mak Tak was arraigned on the charge of being the keeper of a gambling game, and five other defendants three men and two women-were charged with gambling. Mr. H. W. Looker (of Messrs, Descon, Looker and Descon) appeared for the first defendant.

Constable Lau San told the Court that at 10.30 p.m. on the 15th instant he went to the Lols To To Hotel, 411, Queen's Road West. He was dressed up like one of the attendants, and when he went in he saw six people, the second to the seventh defendants, gambling. He saw cards dealt, and the two female defendants

CHURCH MISSIONARY SOCIETY

The annual meeting of the Hongkong Church Missionary Society held yesterday at St. Paul's College was well attended. Blahop Lander presided and was supported by Ven. Archdeacon Banister, Ven. Archdescon Moule of Mid-Chius, and the Rev. F. T. Johnson.

The acting treasurer, Mrs. SMITH reported that the income for 1907 amounted to $780.60 and that the balance in bank at the end of the year was 8436 93.

On the motion of the Rev. Mr. Jourson, seconded by Archdescon BANISTER, the follow. ing Committee was elected : Mrs. Banistor, Mrs. Bunbury, Mrs. Clayson, Miss Eyre, Miss Fletcher, Mrs. France, Mrs. Hipwell, Misa Johnston, Mrs. Tompkins, Messrs. J. Back, A. Bryer, G. Piercy, and Crowther Smith, with the clergy who are members of the Society. The BISMOP remarked that it was not necessary on such an occasion to spologise for missions, because they were members of a Christian church whose raison detre was missions. They in Hongkong could see the need of Christian missions. They lived among a people whom they respected in many ways. They could not help a imicing the characteristics of the Chinese and they felt that that perpie only needed one thing to make them rise to the great ideal they had for them, and that was faith in the Lord Jesus Christ. It needed the righteous principles of the Gospel inculcated. Although he had only been in the colony a few months he had been long enough to see that there were remarkable results following on missionary work. They had in connection with their own church in Hongkong congregations of Chinese Christians that were self supporting, presided ever by their own pastors. At St. Stephens they might see every Sunday morning a congregation of devout Christian people, and besides the church at Kowlone City there was the church at Yaumati lately tiken over by the Chinese Church Council. They had now a church body that managed its own affairs and looked after the interests of the church so that it was not dependent upon European support. It was remarkable that last Christmas they had more Chiusse than English communicants. That was encouraging. His Lordship also mentioned the ready response made to his appeal to the Chinese congregations to contribute to the Pan-Auglican conference and stated that many of the gifts were in such small coius which showed the sacrifice of the people and their readiness to recognise the blessing which the Church of England had brought to them. After a reference to the other. institutions associated with missionary work in Hongkong and pointing out that St. Paul's College was never so full as at the present time, he slluded to his visit to Pakhoi which he had made on the "Flora" and where he found evidences of wonderful work. In conclusion ha called upon the Ven. Archdencon Moule who had been associated with missionary work in China for nearly half a century, to address the meeting.

That programme embraced schools, electric trams, steamers in all the inland waters of Chias, civility to foreigness liberty to trade, etc. All these were advocated at that time, and then China want to sleep again. Speaking on the opium question, he said that he did not think China was going to sleep again with the big pipe in her mouth. He believed China was in earnest now. The Government of China was in earnest and it behoved them now to urge upon England that it was her duty not to follow but to leid. China might tell lies and open the opium shops again, but it was their duty to be honest and show an example to Chins.

The meeting concluded with the doxology.

THE A. D. C.

Last night the Thestre Royal was again comfortably crowded and our local Thespians A second lukong was then called, and told a tribute to the amount of time and study they story which differed somewhat from that told by must have expended on their latest production. The play went without a hitch from first to last and was, if anything, a more finished performance than that of the previous evening due no doubt to the fact that most of the members felt more at home in their respective parts than is possible on a first night. The honours of the evening again fell to Mrs. W. Logan, whose polished and artistic liquer licence the onus was on the prosecution pourtrayal of Lady Jessica Nepean was a to prove that the game played was a game of revelation. But where the Company as a whole is so good it were unjust to individualise, and we can best show our appreciation of the really excellent efforts of our A. D. C. by recommending all those in pursuit of a pleasant evening not to fail to see them at their performance this evening:

Mr. Rumjann seconded, and the motion was carried unanimously.

The SECRETARY draw attention to certain items in the balance sheet. The ordinary donations, he said, were $10,300 as compared with $8700 last year, roughly an increase of. $1600. Hospital Sunday's collections this year realised $619 as against $508 for last year. They hoped, however, that this collection would stil be augmented, as a few years ago they used to receive upwards of $700. From The speaker wished to propose firstly a hearty investments they had received altogether $2515 and cordial vote of thanks to Mr. Brewin, and as compared with $2400, in 1906, an increase of $115. From the Land Investment shares they still only drew $1865, and practically lost $1000 every year from this investment. The speaker then referred to the special donation of $1(0) from the Chinese procession fund, an item which practically helped them to make a respectable balance sheet. The expenditure this year showed that salaries and wages stood at $5395 as against $4,760, an increase of $635. This was due to the Ho Min Ling Hospital. Last year it had been working only siz months, but this year it had been working twelve months. Food, medicines, surgical appliances, clothing, furniture, repairs and sundry accounts also showed in reases. It was possible to cut down the expenditure, but whether this would be wise or not was a maiter of opinion. Personally, he thought they should carry on the work efficiently; if carried on in an inefficient manner the name of the hospital would go down. It was a matter for regret that they should have a debit balance of $1700, but so far as he could see the expenses during the coming year would not be greater than last year.

It was proposed by Mr. RUMJAHN, and seconded by Mr. Tso, that the report and accounts be adopted. Carried.

Mr. WATSON proposed that Mr. H. R. Phelips be appointed honorary treasurer of the hospitals.

Dr. Ho KAI seconded, and the motion was agreed to.

The CHAIRMAN proposed that the committee of the Chinese Procession Fund to heartily thanked for their donation of $4000 to the hospitals. It was very fortunate for them that Memorial Hospital benefit, but other charities their defloit would have been rather alarming.

Mr. Tso seconded, and the motion was

It was proposed by Mr. CLARK, seconded by Dr. Ho KAI, and agreed that the committee's thanks be conveyed to Mr. David Wood for anditing the accounts. The CHAIRMAN remarked that Dr. Gibson, in his joint capacity of superintendent and treasurer, must have had some mixed feelings in tandering his report. It must have been great gratification to him to find the work of the hospital increasing in usefulness, but he must have been dismayed in finding that the ordinary income fell short of the revenue by $24,500. It was firme that they hoped sometime soon to find their income increased by $5,000, but that still left $1500 to be obtained from some source or other. During last month they obtained promises from various Chinese guilds of subscriptions amount. ing to about $600 or $700, and that still left the Finance Committee for the present year to look somewhere for about $1,900. This was a charity which had been founded, was maintained and conducted by Europeans and Chinese jointly, and he was sure the European section of the community would not wish to be behind hand in helping them their difficulties. They were bound, as the work developed, to obtain higher subscriptions and he did not see the names of a great many ladies and gentlemen who, he was sure, would asked. He thought figures were always more elequent than words, and he had noted the following figures from the report, which would show the growth of the hospital. In the ten years ending 1897 the average numbe. Hospital, stated :- The year 1907 has been of in-patients was 732; for the five years ending 1902 this rose to 814, and in the five years ending 1907 to 876. The out-patients showed year while the outside cases have increased from a corresponding increase from 9000 up to 12.000 and finally to 15,000, The opening of the Maternit . Hospital had gradually increased their wor and consequently their expenditure. The number of ladies in hospital in 1905 was 45; last year there were more than double this number, or 109. - Outside last year 22 patients was 114. Dr. Sebree must have felt proud when she reflected that she had presided over the inauguration of the maternity work in Hongkong, and her name would be separately connected with this work as long as it proceeded (applause). The speaker regretted that he would not be able to be of much help to the A meeting of the Finance Committee of the committee in meeting the deficit this year, a Maternity and Ho Min Ling Hospitals was anything he could do during the short time held at the Alice Memorial Hospital, Hollywood he was here he would be very pleased to

He was qu'th sure Dr. Gibson would agree with him when he said that often times if that gentleman had not had the helpof Mr. Brewin he would have been in a very tight corner indeed (applause). Mr. Brewin was going away for a well earned holiday in about a month time, but they wished him to continue to act as chairman and the speaker asked that he be re-elected and allowed to depute a locum tinensito act temporarily. secondly, that he be elected chairman for the

The report of the Alice Memorial and Affiliated Hospitals for 1997; was as under :-Throughout the year the various departments of the hospital work have progressed satisfactorily. The number of in-patients shows a marked increase over the total for 19 6, the numbers being 1058 as compared with 870, an increase of 188. The Affiliated Hospital can now-accommodate a hundred in-patients and during the summer months most of the beds were occupied. The private wards in the Ho Min Ling Hospital have been greatly appreciated; the patients using these werds do not pay an extra fee, but are encouraged to give donations to the funds of the hospital. While many of the inpatients are residents of Hongkoug, some come from the New Territory and Macao, and a few from greater distances, e.g., Canton, Tungkun, etc. The out-patient surgical dress. ing rooms have been improved, and a large room. has been set apart for women and children who are dressed by the Chinese nurses under the supervision of the Matron. There were 1639 cases of eye disease treated as out patients and of that number 939 were cases of Trachonia, while there were 168 operations on the eye and 221 treated as in-patients. While many cases of Trachoma can be cared or relieved by medical treatment, the disease will continue to flourish until the Chinese realise the great importance of fresh mir in their dwellings; it is the common custom to shut up at night all possible sources of ventilation and the vitiated atmosphere affords favourable conditions for the growth of the microbe which is supposed to cause the disease, though authorties are not yet agreed as to the special and a large sum. Not only did the Alice Conege or sustheins hissen like dit parant cliniques and essist in the hospital wards, they have daily opportunities of recognising eye as well. Had it not been for this donation diseases. In the Nethersole Hospital there were 144 children, of 12 years or under; of that Dr. Ho Kar seconded the motion, and wished number 68 were beys and 78 girls. The followingere the principal diseases from which they suffered .- Eye diseases, Tuberculous bone disease, Bronchitis, Broncho-pneumonia, Con-Malformations, Dysentery, Stone genital in the Bladder and Nephritis, It necessary to treat some cases phthisie is in-patients but treatment in a general hospital is not satis actory. A sauntorium is needed, built on a site removed from the neighbourhood of dwelling houses, with free access of fresh air and plenty of sunlight at all hours of the day. Such an institution would be useful for the treatment of early cases and serve also as ah example to the great benefit which may be derived from early treatment of the disease under favourable hygienic conditions That cases untreated are a great danger to the health of a community has in recent years been recognised at Home, and some cities have made Phthisis a notifiable disease. The large number of cases of Phthisis in the Colony would justify the erection of a sanatarium for treating a disease which an authority has stated is one of the most curable of diseases, His Excellency Sir Frederick and Lady Lugard Bir Alexander Simpson, Emeritus Professor of Midwifery, Edinburgh University, and Sir Samuel and Lady Chisholm of Glasgow, have acknowledge medical assistance given by Dre. Jordan, Foreyth Belilios, Sanders, and Dr. Evan Jones, dental surgeon. FINANCIAL :- The inceme for the year was as: follow :-- Ordinary donations $10,348.10 (Chinese $5,4' 8 23 and Non-Chinese $4,939.87). as compared with $8.714.90 in 1906, an increase of $1,633.20; Hospital Sunday $619.30 as compared with $508.18 for 1906. We are greatly indebted to Mr. Chan Sin-ki and Mr. He Komtong who, as representing the committee of the Chinese Procession Fund, kindly gave a donation of $4000 to clear off the debt from last year; also to Hon. Mr. A. W. Brewin for a special donation of $1,250 from the Registrar-General's be willing to sub cribe if they were only Office Fund, to be placed on fixed deposit in the F Hongkong and Shanghai Bank and the yearly attended the various classes. We gratefully interest to be applied to the general funde. We regret that the year's accounts show a debit balance of $1,782. The report on the Alice Memorial Maternity marked by a decided increase in the number of nationts attended both in hospital and ontside. Our in-patients number 126 as against 91 last 45 to 114. We have been particularly pleased that the two private wards have been so frequently occupied by Chinese ladies who are glad to avail themselves of hospital treatment. As in former years a large number of patients are sampan women and although they are often difficult cases they make very good patients. Outside we have attended cases of all classes in widely were attended, whereas this year the number differing circumstances, women in sampans and junks, in dark cubicles and overcrowded tenemente, as well as those in well appointed, well furnished houses. The training of midwives has been carried on as before. We started the year with six and sud with the same number. Our numbers are limited by our accommedation and not for lack of applicants. In March three nurses were examined by the Hon, Principal Givil Medical Officer, after finishing their two years training and passed satisfactorily. All three were at once employed by the Government, two being located in Wanchai. In December a fourth nurse passed the examination and is now settled in Honghom. This brings the number of midwives employed by the Government up to seven. Their work has grown month by month and from what we are able to see of them they are faithful and diligent in it.

CORRESPONDENCE.

"TATSU MARU IT."

TO THE BDITOR OF THE "DAILY PRESS."

Macao, February 20th. SIR .- In some if not most accounts of the seizure of the "Tateu Maru II," it has been stated that the steamer was "only waiting for high tide, to proceed into the Port of Macao. As the steamer was drawing 23 feet and the highest water on the bar is between 16 and 17 feet, she could not have entered the Port, without discharging her eargo in Chinese water. To do this, she would have to apply to the local office here, of the Chinese Imperial Maritime Customs, and obtain a "Hu-ohao" (or permit) which would have been granted without any trouble or expense to the ship. If that had been done in this case, everything would have been in order, and there would have been no question of either her or the Portuguese authorities ignoring all Treaty rights, which is now, svidently, the sore point with the Chinese .-Yours faithfully,

BUSINESS MEN AND POLITICS. In my last something was said about the lethargic condition of public opinion in Japan in regard to Politics, but in the past few days we have had rather notable evidence that one great section of the national community is waking up to its interests and its power. There has just been passed in the Diet a measure which has roused much discussion and called forth from the chambers of commerce and other lusiness guilds decided opposition In itself it is not important—it provides for the increase of the tax on one or two much meed commedities, sake, etc.—and would yield only a few millions a year. But the present Government distinctly promised when it was younger and more optimistic of the future that there should be no further increase of taxes and the public was also, given to understand that the war-sime taxes should not be perma-ment. To-day, the war levies are recognised as permanent and it is the still further increase. in breach of all promises, that has aroused the business men of Japan to the first protest they have ever organized against the Government WHAT IT MEANS. To anyone who has lived here for a few years and knows something of the national peculiarties, this is surely one of the most hopeful signs of the times. That the Government regards the business men's hostile attitude with characteristic displeasure is plain from one or two reports that have got into the papers; For example, in the Diet the other day, a member asked the Minister or Vice-Minister for Home Affairs if it was correct that the Government had tried to influence one of the trade guilds who were going to hold a tax-opposition meeting and had endeavenred to prevent the meeting taking place. The Minister denied that snything like this bad been done, but the public are not satisfied. This is just the procedure the Government would take, and the procedure that the prople-from generations of experience-would expect. Indeed, such official interference is the people's doings, private and public, is the normal state of things in this country, for although the Japanese have a constitution and a parliament, they have not yet recognised what value these should be to themselves, the people. One section, however, the commercial men, are now beginning to move. Hundreds of antor, and a certain respectable eitisen and the latter have shocked the authorities by properly owner signed the passport, guaranteedeciding in meeting assembled not to rote at the ing the candidate for emigration. A policeman coming general election for those candidates was sent to the guarantor's honce and his who do not support their interests. When the inquiries into the financial standing of the things, there will be a change for the better, official in ascertaining the means the would-be

WHEE SMAINIPOX During the few weeks the scourge of smallpox has had its hold on Kobe the death toll bas been high. As many as 200 persons a day have been seiz d and of these a very large proportion were fatal. The authorities must he given credit for the way in which they have tried to check this epidemic, and especially in Tokyo extra- precantions have been taken Vaccination is now the order of the day Officials go from house to house and vaccinate everybody free of charge, when the name, nationality and age of each, native and foreigner, is duly entered in a book. By strennous efforts with the offer, the disease in Tokyo has hitherto been kept almost exclusively in the poorer districts of the city on the east of the Sunnida-in Honjo and Fukagawa: Several cases, however, have in for cattle-breeding." occurred in Hongo, in which ward is the Imperial University, and one has been reported from the official district, Kojimachi ku. before its ravages become greater. THE BESTRICTION OF EMIGRATION

Over and over again, of late, the Japanese Government has emphasised the fact that China Sea. it is doing all it can to restrict emigration United States and America generally. Probably in America this is only half believed, and doubtless with the labour agitators on the Pacific Coast the wish is father to the thought that the alleged restriction is only an example of Oriental bluff. Well, at the present moment the Japanese government is making itself unpopular among many of the people by the strictness with which it South examines all applicants for emigration passports. Recently a student desired to go to South America and join his brother. He wished to go across the States and via New York but according to law he had to show that he had ample funds to support himself while in the showed funds; the authorities required a

One or there will be a parliament which the govern- two other incidents of this character could be given to show the efforts that are being made by the Japanese government to keep its agreements with Canada and the United States and it would be well if these efforts were recognised abroad, for there can be no doubt of the sincerity of the government's intentions.

MEN IN THE NAVY

AN OFFICE L STATEMENT AND THE FACTS.

A ministerial evening paper has obtained an official denial of the stitement made in the "Express" to the effect that it is proposed under the new Naval Estimates seriously to reduce the strong h of the Royal Marines.

The denial, which, of course, was anticipated, was, however, accompanied by a saving clause to provide for the retreat that will become necessary when the Estimates are announced The representative of the "Westminster Gazette," inspired by the authority which issued the denial—the Admiralty—says

From year to year the numerical strength of this, as well as other branches of the Navy. must viry slightly, sometimes in one direction, sometimes in another, but the policy of the Admiralty is not a police of reduction. (Tag-

It would be interesting to have this journal's explanation of the following figures, which show the strength of the personnel of the Navy for the last four years :-

1904-5 ... 131,100 men 1905-6 ... 129,001 1906-7 129,000

The strength of the corps of Royal Marines. we are told, "must vary slightly, sometimes in one direction, sometimes in another." It would seem from the following figures that they are suffering from a chronic attack of "the other":-

STRENGTH OF THE BOYAL MARINES. 1906-7 ... 18,261 1907-8 17,500

And yet "the policy of the Admiralty is not a policy of reduction!" This is quite up to the usual standard of statements from that quarter.

We have no business to report in this stock; and the rate may be considered a nominal one. We have nothing further to report under this RIFINERIES China Sugars, on rumours of better prospects, have been in some demand, and in the absence of sellers the rate has improved to $112 buyers, and it is probable that a slightly higher rate would be paid. Luzons continue without change or business.

MINING. - Raubs have been dealt in at various rates, from 74 to 82, the market closing quieter at S. a more or less nominal rate. Charbonnages have advanced to $525 with buyers, but shares are scarce in the East, and we have no business to report. Chinese Engineerings have. improved to 16, without any local business. Langkats, after touching 440 in Shanghai, are now quoted at 420.

DOCKS, WHARTES AND GODOWNS -Hongkong and Whampon Docks continue neglected and out of favour, and we have only a small sale at 98 to report, the market closing with sellers. Miscellaneous. - China Borneos have charged hands at 10%. China Providents at 85 and 83; Cements at 111, 11.60 and 114, the last closing with sellers Il2, and possibly a little lower. Hongkong Millings have changed hands at 150. The statement of accounts of this Company to the Stat December last, just issued, shows a profit of $161,262.76, for the year 1907, which, after deducting the debit of the working account of 1906 leaves a balance at credit of $82,766,09. Watsons have been placed at 101 and $1 , closing with buyers at the latter rate. Powells have also found buyers at 5. Electrics, after small sales at 141, close in demand at that rate. Two kinds of partial blindness due to light are recognized by Dr. A. Birch-Hirschfeldone caused by luminous rays and the other by ultra-violet rays. Looking at the aun with the naked eye injures the center of the retina; often permanently, and this is due to luminous rays other rays being nearly all sifted from sunlight by the atmosphere. The night blindness of fatigued and ill-nourished persons results from slow recovery of the retinal nerves after exposure to strong light. The electric are, electric spark, magnesium | light and mercury vapor lamp emit a large proportion of ultra violet rays, and these produce auch effects as snow blindness, electric light blindness, lightning blindness, and erythropsis or "seeing red." . The snow blind ness usually occurs in high altitudes, where sunlight is rich in ultra-violet rays, Smokecolored glasses give the best protection against luminous rays, but thickness of the glass is more important than color as a shield from the nitra-violet rays. The eyes of the weak, nervous and ilf-nourished especially need guard- questions which have arisen between the two ing from intense light.

Exposure to radium for a month, in Prof. Bordas' experiments, seems to have changed light red corundum to ruby red, violet to sapphire blue, and blue to emerald green, while white became topaz yellow. An expert pronounced the changed specimens genuine precious stones, the ruby of large value, and the ruby and sapphire appear to differ in no respect from the natural gems.

Phototrophy, or change of color in light and restoration to original color in darkness has been found by Marckwaldt in a very few substances. Of possible value in photography, the discovery is especially interesting as representing possible direct conversion of light waves into chemical energy.

Electrical engineers foreses at least one more stage in the evolution of Atlantic liners. The steam turbin is most efficient at high speed which the propeller slips without doing full . work when driven beyond a comparatively slow rate, and gearing down is impracticable with the great horse-power of large vessels. With urbines like those of the Lucitania, made large for a rate of only 180 revolutions per minute, much steam reaches the condensers without giv . ing up its full energy. A suggestion that is. being worked out already is the use of turbines to drive electric generators, which would propel the vessel through electric motors, and it is believed that the gain in employing high speed turbines would more than balance the loss in transforming mechanical energy into electricity and back again. The re-arrangement of machinery would leave more room for cargo. It is predicted that the coming fast passenger -ship-may-be given a speed-of-thirty-knots by six turbo-generators of 20,000 horse power each, one to be used only in case of break down with four propellers each having six motors of 5,000 horse-power, one to be kept in reserve for instant use in emergency. The motors could be reversed almost instantaneously, while the navigation officer, would control the vessel direct from the bridge instead of, through signals to the engineers.

A material for which not much use has yet been found is the wax of Myrica cordifolis, a shrub originally planted in Cape Colony to bind drift sands. The Cape berry, as the fruit is known, is about as large as a pea, and three bushels produce ten to fourteen pounds of wax, which is now valued in London at $275 per ton. The wax seems to be adapted for making soap, and possibly for candles.

A novel institution of Tarare, France, is a mycological laboratory, where expert judgment is pronounced upon mushrooms. The fungi are abundant in the locality, and the examiners have found that excellent edible qualities are possessedby an astonishing number of varieties that had been avoided as dangerous.

Oxygen has become the almost universal remedy in cases of poisoning by gases such as coal gas, acetylene, foul air from sewers, after-damp of mines, etc., -but its application is sometimes a difficult matter for the inexperienced by stander. A new apparatus by Mr. Brat made in Westphalis, is designed to clear the lungs and act more or less automatically, in giving artificial respiration. The portable form consists of a fair-sized oxygen-cylinder, a chest containing a small air-pump, levers and other parts, and the usual face mask for the patient, When able to do so, the patient breathes the oxygen without heep. If necessary, the attendant gives a rbythmical motion to the pum pvalue, and the liberated oxygen actuates the pump, withdrawing air from the lungs. Respiration is thus restarted or supported.

> The "blue eye," so-called on account of the brilliant blue of its iris, is a small fish, 11 to 2 inches long, living in shallow Australian waters but the creature has been made very big in importance by the discovery of Count Birger Noerner, Swedish consul, that it subsists on mosquito larvas. After some difficulty. nough of the fishes have been captured and sent to Naples to test their possible influence in altering the condition of the. malarious swamps and marshes of Italy. To science the fish is known as Pseudomugil signifer, and it belongs to the family, of Athorinides, represented in different parts of the world by 14 principal kinds and 65 subvarieties, which will be eagerly investigated if the Italian experiments succeed.

JAPAN AND CHINA.

.. The Tokyo correspondent of the Times wrote on December 15:-When the Portsmouth peace condemned Japan to bear all the expenses of the Manchurian campaign there were onlookers who predicted that she would soon pick a quarrel with China in order to obtain from the latter a part, at any rate, of the indemnity which the Russians had refused to pay. No one acquainted with Japan's sentiment, or observant of the engagements assumed by her in her alliance with England, could have seriously uttered such a prediction. Nevertheless, it certainly was uttered, not once only but often; nor did the course of events fail to suggest a possibility of its being verified, For, from the moment of Manchuria's restoration to China, the diplomatic atmosphere of Peking and Tokyo grew thick with questions which might at any moment have become acute, since their collective number tended to exaggerate their separate importance. Fate, in fact, with her usual way wardness, contrived to dispose matters so that Japan, whose prowess-exercised largely in her neighbour's behalf-had suggested to the latter a new estimate of Oriental potentiality, should be precisely the State to experience the first effects

.Half a column of The Times' broad sheet would be needed to catalogue the numerous Powers during the past twelvemonth, and which might have been settled sessily and speedily had they not been complicated by the "rights-recovery" mood now so prevalent among all classes in China. The trouble began with a fishery dispute which culminated in the assassination of a Chinese subject who had proceeded from the leased territory to Kaiping for purposes of negotiation, and in the arrest and conveyance to Mukden of a Japanese subject who accompanied him. This strange sffair was followed by the posting of Chinese troops in the neutral zone northward of Kwantung. Then the Mukden officials, in the interests of the State's salt monopoly, attempted to impose an almostprohibitive tax on the export of that staple from Ewantung, where its manufacture constitutes the chief local industry. Then followed a wehement protest against the working of mines along the Mukden Anting line of railway, although such a concession seems to be clearly guaranteed by the Peking Treaty of 1906 Then the Chinese essayed to invalidate Japan's right to exploit the coal mines of Fushun and Yen-tai from which the Russians had retired. Then Peking proposed such conditions that the timberfelling enterprise in the Yalu Valley, though definitely provided for by treaty, became practically impossible. Then the Chinese began to talk seriously of building a railway from Hainmintum to Fakumen and thence into Mongolia, which road would have competed direct with the South Manchurian line and would, therefore, bave been contrary to the Peking Protocol Then there were difficulties about posts and telegraphs; and while all these complications refused to yield to pegotiation owing, apparently, to China's peculiar temper, there ensued another problem which is now occupying attention in Peking and Tokyo, and which bulks much more largely than all the rest inasmuch as it concerns the ownership of territory. Doubtless this last

On the centrary, the Seoul the part of the Chinese soldiery; then the is so spacious as the Japanese Island of the Nine Provinces (Kiushu), and its area consequently invests it with importance which its strategical position enhances. In ancient times the regionscontiguous to the Tumen on its left (western) bank formed part of the kingdom of Koma, one of the three principalities into which the Korea of the present time was then divided. Sub-equently this district fell under the sway of the tural Institution to improve farm plants, century a certain Yi Anso, who had deserved manganese salts have given such surprising and well of the then Manchu Sovereign, received a remarkable results as a manure for potatoes local appointment which placed under his control to one of whom the King of Korea, in a fateful moment, entrusted the government of the Korean province of Hamgyong-do, on the eastern (Korean) bank of the Tumen. This administrator's son, Yi Sonke, overren the whole of the Korean peninsula and added it to his original domain, thus founding the line of Sovereigns by whom the throne of Kores is now occupied. When history next alludes to the West-Tumen regions it describes how they were invaded by the Manchu Aichin Chailae, subsequent conqueror of China, where he established the present Manchu dynasty. This great general led the West-Tumen inhabitants southward, making Lian-yang temporary capital and ultimately pushing on to Peking. Thereafter the region now in dispute remained entirely without population, being treated by China and Korea alike as neutral territory. But in the days of the celebrated Emperor Kanghai, a Jesuit, Pere Regis, was sent from Peking (1709 A.D. to survey the Chinese and Koreen frontiers. This Padre compiled a map, which is still extant, showing that a range of mountains on the west of the Tumen and nearly parallel to it was the boundary. He also wrote a memorandum explaining that a dotted it. Deeming it necessary, therefore, to avert ine on the map represented the eastern limit of a neutral zone, which the Korean sove-

> was at that time neutral territory. At a later be immediately recalled. But as this protest decided that the Tumen and the Yaln rivers River constituted the frontier, no distinct should be the boundaries of Korea and China, reasons being advanced, Japan asked for a and that the dominions of the latter should include the "Long White Mountain" (Chanpel-sban), which was sacred as the birthplace of the, Manchu dynasty. He sent 7 did Poking admit the necessity of marshalling commissioners for purposes of delimitation, and these, being met by Korean officials, erected on the Long White Mountain a monolith bearing | kai acting as China's plenipotentiary and Baron the incription :- The Yalu is the western boundary! the Tumen, the eastern." Now, on the west of the monolith, at a distance of some 40 years, the Yalu River actually has its source, but at a similar distance on the east there rises a river which, after flowing - castward for a distance of 25 miles, turns northwards to join Sungari, and, consequently, is not the Tumen at all. Thus the Chanhpeh-shan stone, far from settling matters, introduced element of perplexity, especially as "Tumen was written with ideographs used to designate not the Tumen itself but the branch of it which. under the name of "Tomon" (or "Domon"), is now regarded by Korea as the northern boundary of Chentao, Kanghai made no attempt to administer these regions on the upper waters leave uninhabited. In short, if the accuracy of Government and ordered-the settlers to withadminister the region, and not even establishing in all the surrounding districts. In 1874, howwas the true boundary of Kores. In the sequel (1900) appointed a local governor. But Korea not acquiesce. She, too, regardless of China's protest, sent an "inspector" to the region, and subsequently changed his office to that of "administrator," charging him with the duties of protecting Korean subjects, collecting taxes, and organizing a local militia.

A few years later the Russo-Japanese war broke out, and the West-Tumen region fell entirely into Russian hands, its Korean administrator assisting Japan's enemy to levy contributions and otherwise utilize the district as a military basis. This official proceeded to Vladivostok on the restoration of peace, and has not since been heard of publicly. The Kerean inhabitants of Chentae new began to suffer much oppression at the bands of their Chinese fellow residents, as well as at the bands of Hunghutsze brigands. Accordingly, in the autmn of 1506, they sent delegates to Seoul, praying that Korean officials mightbe despatched to protect them, which request having been transmitted in due order by the Korean Government to the Japanese Resident-General he lost no time in despatching to the scene Colonel Saito with 90 gendarmes. The primary object of this step was to protect Korean life, and property, not in any sense to assert a territorial title. Japanese statesmen are understood to have fully appreciated the complitated nature of the Chentao problem, and to have foreseen that time would be needed to solve any misapprehension on Peking's part, they addressed to the Wai-wu-pu, simultaneously reigns and the Manchu rulers had agreed to with the despatch of Colonel Saito, an official communication, setting-forth clearly-the-purhis survey be admitted, it is clearly proved that pose of that step. The Wai-wu-pu nevertheless the district subsequently called "Chentao" protested and asked that Colonel Saito should eriod (1712), however, Kangbei arbitrarily was based on a mere spee dix t that the Tumen statement of China's case and added that, until the problem of ownership was solved; things must remain in statu quo, Not until December its arguments, and the matter will soon enter the domain of practical discussion, Yuan Shih-Hayashi as Japan's. Possibly a solution may have been found before this letter is in print but such a speedy result seems doubtful. Ultimately the question is between China and Korea, Japan being interested only as the

of the Tokyo statesmen that they desire nothing more than an amicable settlement. The number of Korean settlers in Chentao is 140,000 approximately. All the districts lying beyond the Tumen and opposite to Musan, Hodryong, and Chyongsong may be said to be inhabited entirely by Koreans. In the Lastaukan region, -where Colonel Saito and his gendarmes are stationed, there are 20 Koreans for every one-Chinaman; in the Taotackan region the ratio is four to one, and even in Chutszchich, where the Chinese administrator has his yamen, there of the Tumen and the Yalu, and, what is more, are more than four Kores s for every three when some Chinese subjects settled there, he Chinese subjects. The Koreans are said to be similted the justice of a protest by the Korean exceedingly ill-used by the Chinese. They are compelled to supply not only provisions, but also pay for the latter's treops, who number Things remained thus for over a century and some 500; and if they demur to these a half. China not taking any step whatever to exactions, beating or imprisonment follows. Frequent disturbances of the peace are caused post-stations there, though she organized these by mounted bandits also, who have killed several Japanese subjects and held others to ever, Korea's north-western province being ransom. In such circumstances it is difficult to visited with a sharp famine, the people began to | see how the Residency General could have cross to the left bank of the Tumen and to settle | declined to Korea's application for the proteclargely in the comparatively fertile regions lying tion of her people's lives and properties in the fallow there. I am blessed with an abundance florg heir and I use the atmost care in the preservation of it. I have never found snything that pleases me as much as Newbro's Herpicide. It keeps the scalp elean and sanitary and adds a luxurious appearance to my hairs that no other preparation will give. I consider it most delightful to use and I can 'ruly say that I prefer it above all other preparations for the bair. I like your soap also and can recommend both highly to any lady who wishes a good head of hair."

(Signed) JENNIE A. ABOIT. 2413 Warden Avenue, CLEVELAND, OHIO.

While-it is not natural for everyone to have extremely long hair, it is possible for every lady to have beautiful hair, for when the scalp is not diseased, the hair will grow naturally and abundantly.

The chief disease of the scalp is dandruff-which is highly contagious and dandruff is now known to be caused by an invisible vegetable growth called the dandruff germ. Ordinarily, the first signs of scalp infection are dryness, dullness and birttleness of the hair, although the disease sometimes causes excessive oiliness. Following this, the hair loses its lustre, the scalp itches more or less and dandruff appears. Falling thair and baldness represent the last stages of hair destruction,

NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE—the original remedy that kills the dandruff germ—will cure any stage of the disease, except chronic baldness, which is incurable. Herpicide not only destroys the dandruff germ and stops falling hair, but it is a most exquisite hair dressing, making the hair light and fluffy and giving it a silken gloss. Almost marvelous results sometimes follow the continued use of Herpicide. It stops itching of the scalp almost instantly,

THE SISTERS who direct Sr. Antonio's

CONVENT at Macao will be very thankful to Shop-keepers, Linen-drappers, Clothiers and Tailors in Hongkong, Macao, and elsewhere who will send to them remnants of material, books of patterns no longer used, and any pieces of cloth, no matter how small, of which they cannot make use. Those who send will thus, at no cost to themselves afford the numerous hands in the convent, especially the little ones, opportunity for useful occupation; for pieces of cloth, even of a square inch, can be stitched together and very pretty pieces of work made out of cloth, that would otherwise be thrown away. These articles are bought by charitable persons and 1868; Peking, 1880; Immigration, 1894; the Sisters are thus helped to keep up their very large establishment, which is maintained by the alms of friends, and in a great measure by the earnings of the girls themselves, who lead, hy no means an idle life within the convent
